How Does ACH/EFT Electronic Phone Checks Work?

You can accept Checks by Phone™ as easily as accepting a credit card payment. When a consumer would like to pay your company by phone, a salesperson, collection agent, or telemarketing representative requests the consumer to read the MICR line at the bottom of their check. The MICR line contains the consumers' checking account number, bank routing number and check number needed to process the transactions electronically.

This information can be sent to us as a batch that is uploaded at our secure web site or individual checks can be processed in real-time at our secure, easy-to-use virtual terminal that can be accessed securely from any internet connection.

What Does ChexViaPhone Cost?

We offer several plans specifically suited to meet your needs. Regardless of what business you run or even where you're located, we have a solution for you with rates you can be happy with.

Pricing is defined by the Service requested and overall credit risk. A Risk-Assessment is performed during the FREE application process. Actual rate may vary by Credit/Risk Level and/or Transaction Volume.
